
Justice Involved Programs

Allan Hancock College offers the following programs to support students who are justice-impacted:

Phoenix Scholars & Rising Scholars- Phoenix Scholars specifically serves ages 14-24 and Rising Scholars serves students of all ages. You are eligible for these programs if you are formerly or currently incarcerated or if you have been impacted by gang culture or the justice system. We work collaboratively with the Central Coast Community to offer resources such as peer mentorship, academic guidance, laptop lending, school supplies and other financial assistance, professional and personal development workshops, job or internship opportunities, university field trips and more.
