
Transfer Recognition Award

Allan Hancock College recognizes students who have completed a minimum of 24 units in residence and who have been accepted by an accredited four-year college or university, or to an accredited professional school requiring a minimum of three years of post-secondary education. Qualified students are eligible to receive the Transfer Recognition Award and to have their name annotated on the commencement program whether or not the student petitions to graduate. Information concerning specific requirements for this award may be obtained from the University Transfer Center.
